

Vesper Propers, December 2, 2018
Twenty-eighth Sunday after Pentecost

The holy prophet Habakkuk, who, in the face of the iniquity and violence of the people, announced not only the judgment of the Lord, but also his mercy, saying, “But the just will live by his own faith.”

*Supplement for The Order of Vespers for Sundays after Pentecost, 2006
Lamplighting Psalms in the Tone of the Week (Tone 3, p. 48), stichera 10-4.

Cantor: (Tone 4) Because with the Lord there is mercy and fullness of redemption,
(on 3) Israel indeed he will redeem from all its iniquity.

Stichera of the holy prophet Habakkuk - Tone 4 samohlasen

The musical score consists of five staves of music in a single system. The first staff begins with a circled number '3' above the treble clef. The music is written in a single melodic line with lyrics underneath. The lyrics are: "The won-drous Hab - ba - kuk, re - ceiving the bril-liance of the Spir - it, be - came whol - ly di - vine; and see - ing the dishonesty of the judg - es and their un - just judg - ment, he was sore - ly dis-pleased, show-ing forth the right - ness of the jus - tice of Christ the Mas - ter with divine love and fer-vent thought, and he glowed as one just - ly an-gered." The music uses a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature. The lyrics are hyphenated to match the musical phrasing.
