

Vesper Propers, June 21, 2020
Third Sunday after Pentecost

The holy martyr Julian of Tarsus, a soldier of the empire, was cruelly tortured for his Christian faith despite his age of eighteen years. (290)

Supplement for The Order of Vespers for Sundays after Pentecost, 2006

Lamplighting Psalms in the Tone of the Week (Tone 2, p. 36), stichera 10-4.

Cantor: (Tone 4) Because with the Lord there is mercy and fullness of redemption, (on 3) Israel indeed he will redeem from all its iniquity.

Stichera of the holy martyr Julian - Tone 4 samohlasen

③

Bless-ed mar-tyr Ju - li - an, we see you as a ra - dant sun shi - ning mystic rays upon all on earth and driv - ing away the dark night of god - less - ness.
We cel - ebrate your holy and light - bear - ing mem - o - ry as we bow be - fore your rel - ics, draw - ing strength for our souls.

Cantor: Praise the Lord, all you nations,
(on 2) acclaim him all you peoples!

②

Scourged and cruel - ly wound - ed, im - pris - oned, dragged a - bout, af - flict - ed, thrown to the wild beasts, you were then cast into the depths of the sea to drown, thus reach - ing your hap - py re - ward.

In all of this, O blessed glor - y of mar - tyrs, you nev - er re - nounced the King of All.

Cantor: Strong is the love of the Lord for us;
(on 1) he is faithful forever.

When the ho - ly wom - an saw you cast up from the depths of the sea, up - on the shore to which the Spir - it di - rect - ed you, she re - ceived you with faith;

she buried your no - ble bo - dy which had fought the good fight tri - umphing over the arrogance of the de - mon with the help of grace.

Cantor: (Tone 6) Glory....

Doxastikon of the holy martyr Julian - Tone 6 samohlasen

Hav - ing drawn forth the inexhaustible drink of the pure faith, O blessed one, you extinguished the wor-ship of i - dols. You pass through the contest in victo-ry, made ra - di - ant with dew, shin - ing like a never-wan - ing star of Christ, the ev - er-shin - ing Sun. E - mit - ting rays of mar - tyr - dom in each cit - y, you re - ceived a blessed end in the sea, and came before the face of Christ wear - ing a crown. Be - seech him, O all - glo - ri - ous Jul - i - an, that he save those who cel - e - brate your mem - o - ry with faith.

Cantor: (Tone 2) Now and ever...

Aposticha

Aposticha in the Tone of the Week (Tone 2, page 43), concluding with:

Cantor: (Tone 6) Glory...

Aposticha doxastikon of the holy martyr Julian - Tone 6 samohlasen

Come, you lov-ers of the mar-tyrs, let us piously glorify the glo-rious Jul - i - an, the ath-lete of Christ, the com-pa-tri-ot of Paul, who was shown to be his fel-low mys-ta-gogue, who al-so ran the race. En-t'ring the wa-ter, he crushed the head of the ser - pent to - geth - er with the beasts of the wa - ter.
He sanctified the earth with his blood and the sea by his pas - sage, pass-ing from things here to the etemal man - sions, and receiving honor for his struggles from the hand of the Al - might - y. He now asks cleans-ing for our souls and great mer - cy.

Cantor: Now and ever...
