Like the other publications of the Metropolitan Cantor Institute, this setting of the service of Matins for Great and Holy Thursday is UNOFFICIAL and subject to change or revision by the Cantor Institute, the Inter-Eparchial Music Commission, or the Council of Hierarchs of the Byzantine Catholic Church. Matins for Great and Holy Thursday

The faithful STAND as the priest, vested in a bright epitrachilion, incenses the holy table, icon screen, interior of the church, and the faithful, then the main icons of Christ and the Theotokos. The deacon precedes him with a lighted candle. The priest then stands before the holy doors, holding the censer. The deacon stands at his right and says:

Deacon: In the name of the Lord, Father, give the blessing.

While making the sign of the cross with the censer, the priest says:

Priest: Glory to the holy, consubstantial, life-creating and undivided Trinity, always, now and ever and forever. Psalm tone:

Response: A - - men.

Glory to God in the highest,
and to people on earth, peace and good will. (3 times)

O Lord, open my lips,
and my mouth will declare your praise. (2 times)

The lector, holding a candle and standing in the middle of the church, reads the Six Psalms of Matins (Psalms 3, 37, 62 and 87, 102, 142) on a single note, while the faithful listen. (Only one psalm from each section is given here.) The priest goes in front of the holy doors and reads the prayers of Matins (see pp. 52-53). The deacon returns to the altar.

Psalm 37

Lector: O Lord, do not rebuke me in your anger;
do not punish me, Lord, in your rage.

Your arrows have sunk deep in me;
your hand has come down upon me.

Through your anger all my body is sick:
through my sin, there is no health in my limbs.
My guilt towers higher than my head;
it is a weight too heavy to bear.

My wounds are foul and festering,
the result of my own folly.

I am bowed and brought to my knees.
I go mourning all the day long.

All my frame burns with fever;
all my body is sick.

Spent and utterly crushed,
I cry aloud in anguish of heart.

O Lord, you know all my longing:
my groans are not hidden from you.

My heart throbs, my strength is spent;
the very light has gone from my eyes.

My friends avoid me like a leper;
those closest to me stand afar off.

Those who plot against my life lay snares;
those who seek my ruin speak of harm,
planning treachery all the day long.

But I am like the deaf who cannot hear,
like the dumb I cannot open my mouth.

I am like a man who hears nothing in whose mouth is no defense.

I count on you, O Lord;
it is you, Lord God, who will answer.

I pray: “Do not let them mock me,
those who triumph if my foot should slip.”

For I am on the point of falling and my pain is always before me.
I confess that I am guilty and my sin fills me with dismay.

My wanton enemies are numberless and my lying foes are many.

They repay me evil for good and attack me for seeking what is right.

O Lord, do not forsake me!
My God, do not stay afar off!

Make haste and come to my help,
O Lord, my God, my savior!

and again:
O Lord, do not forsake me!
My God, do not stay afar off!

Make haste and come to my help,
O Lord, my God, my savior!

Lector: Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit:
        now and ever and forever. Amen.

All: Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!
     Glory to you, O God! (three times, without bows)

Lector: Lord, have mercy. Lord have mercy.
         Lord, have mercy.

All: Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit:
     now and ever and forever. Amen.

Lector: And the lector continues with the next section of psalmody.

Psalm 87

Lector: Lord my God, I call for help by day;
        I cry at night before you.
Let my prayer come into your presence.
O turn your ear to my cry.

For my soul is filled with evils;
my life is on the brink of the grave.

I am reckoned as one in the tomb;
I have reached the end of my strength,

Like one alone among the dead,
like the slain lying in their graves;

like those you remember no more,
cut off, as they are, from your hand.

You have laid me in the depths of the tomb,
in places that are dark, in the depths.

Your anger weighs down upon me;
I am drowned beneath your waves.

You have taken away my friends and made me hateful in their sight.

Imprisoned, I cannot escape;
my eyes are sunken with grief.

I call to you, Lord, all the day long;
to you I stretch out my hands.

Will you work your wonders for the dead?
Will the shades stand and praise you?

Will your love be told in the grave or your faithfulness among the dead?

Will your wonders be known in the dark or your justice in the land of oblivion?

As for me, Lord, I call to you for help;
in the morning my prayer comes before you.
Lord, why do you reject me?
Why do you hide your face?

Wretched, close to death from my youth,
I have borne your trials; I am numb.

Your fury has swept down upon me;
your terrors have utterly destroyed me.

They surround me all the day like a flood,
they assail me all together.

Friend and neighbor you have taken away:
my one companion is darkness.

_and again:_
Lord my God, I call for help by day;
I cry at night before you.

Let my prayer come into your presence.
O turn your ear to my cry.

Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit:
now and ever and forever. Amen.

_Each time with a bow:_
Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!
Glory to you, O God! (twice)

_The third time, with melody:_

_Al - le - lu - ia! Al - le - lu - ia! Al - le - lu - ia! Glo - ry to you, O God._

_The deacon goes to the ambon to say the Litany of Peace. He and the priest bow to each other, and the priest returns to the altar. If there is no deacon, the priest intones the Litany before the holy doors._

_The faithful may SIT for the Litany of Peace._

While the illustrious disciples were enlightened as their feet were washed at the supper, the ungodly Judas darkened by a sick love of silver, betrayed you, the just Judge, to lawless judges. See how a money-hungry man hanged himself because of it, and flee the greedy soul who would do such things to the teacher. O Lord, so good to every one, glory to you.

After reading the Gospel, the priest closes the Gospel Book, kisses it, and takes it to the center of the church to set upon the tetrapod. The Gospel Book remains on the tetrapod until the Lesser Doxology.

Psalm 50

Have mercy on me, God, in your kindness.
   In your compassion blot out my offense.
O wash me more and more from my guilt and cleanse me from my sin.

My offenses truly I know them;
   my sin is always before me.
Against you, you alone, have I sinned;
   what is evil in your sight I have done.

That you may be justified when you give sentence and be without reproach when you judge, O see, in guilt I was born,
   a sinner was I conceived.

Indeed you love truth in the heart;
   then in the secret of my heart teach me wisdom.
O purify me, then I shall be clean;
   O wash me, I shall be whiter than snow.
Make me hear rejoicing and gladness,
    that the bones you have crushed may thrill.
From my sins turn away your face and blot out all my guilt.

A pure heart create for me, O God;
    put a steadfast spirit within me.
Do not cast me away from your presence,
    nor deprive me of your holy spirit.

Give me again the joy of your help;
    with a spirit of fervor sustain me,
that I may teach transgressors your ways and sinners may return to you.

O rescue me, God, my helper,
    and my tongue shall ring out your goodness.
O Lord, open my lips
    and my mouth shall declare your praise.

For in sacrifice you take no delight, burnt offering from me you would refuse,
my sacrifice, a contrite spirit,
    a humbled, contrite heart you will not spurn.

In your goodness, show favor to Zion:
    rebuild the walls of Jerusalem.
Then you will be pleased with lawful sacrifice,
    burnt offerings wholly consumed,
    then you will be offered young bulls on your altar.
The Red Sea was divided in two by the staff of Moses and the streams of the abyss were dried up. A passage was opened for the unarmed people, but for the army and equipment of Pharaoh it became a grave. A hymn of praise then rose up to God, celebrating the victory of Christ our God.

Refrain

Glory to you, our God, glory to you.

The unsearchable Wisdom of God, * the Origin of all good and the Fountain of life, * has built his house in the holy spouseless Mother; * having been garbed in the temple of our flesh, * Christ our God is clothed with glory. Refrain

The true Wisdom of God initiates his friends into the mysteries; * He prepares a table filled with spiritual food, * and, for the faithful, He fills the cup of immortality. * Let us approach in fear and say: * Christ our God is clothed with glory.

now and ev - er and for - ev - er. A - men.-- - -

Come, all you faithful, and hear the voice of the divine and uncreated Wisdom, * who offers us the most sublime message: * Taste and see how good the Lord is; * and in joy we sing: * Christ our God is clothed with glory.

Ode 3
Irmos - Tone 6 simple melody

The Lord, the King of All, and our Cre - a - tor God has been clothed in our human nature without undergo-ing change; He him-self is our Pass-o-ver, and has of - fered him - self to those whom He wished to save by his death: Take and eat, this is my Bo - dy; you shall find food for your faith.

Refrain
Glo - ry to you, our God, glo - ry to you.
O God most good, *You yourself filled the cup of joy which frees the human race; *You offer yourself in sacrifice, * and You made your disciples drink from it, saying: *Take and drink, this is my Blood; * you shall find food for your faith.

O sinless Lord, You said to your disciples: * Woe to the one who betrays me! * But the senseless one did not understand this mystery; * he could not grasp it. * But, you dwell in Me, * and you shall find food for your faith.

Sessional Hymn - Tone 4 poboden: Hrob tvoj

He who made the lakes, the springs, and the seas shows us the greatest humility: He girds himself with a linen cloth and washes the feet of his disciples; in his infinite mercy he lowers himself and he draws us up from the abyss of evil for He alone is the Lover of us all.

Glo-ry to the Fa-ther, and to the Son, and to the Ho-ly Spir-it.

In your mer-cy, you hum-bled your-sel-f and washed the feet of your di-sci-ples thus pre-par-ing them to walk in the di-vine foot-steps. Pe-ter at first re-fused to be washed, but then ob-ey-ed your d-vine com-mand; and while You were wash-ing him, O Lord, he ear-nest-ly be-ge-d You to grant us your great mer-cy.

In the course of the sup- per, You re-vealed to your di-sci-ples, O Lord, the mys-ter-y of your ho-ly ob-la-tion which de-li-ver-us from death;
and we ve ne rate your sac red Pas sion.

Ode 4
Irmos - Tone 6 simple melody

Fore see ing your ineffable mystery, O Christ, the Pro phet said: You have shown the strength of your sov reign love, O God of mercy and all good Fa ther, for You have sent your only Son into the world for the forgive ness of sins.

Refrain

As You were going to your Passion, * that fountain of impassibility for the human race, *
You said to your friends, O Christ: * I have desired to eat this Passover with you; * for I am the only Son * whom the Father sent into the world for the forgiveness of sins. Refrain

Drinking from the cup, O immortal Lord, * You said to your disciples: * I shall no longer drink from the fruit of this vine in this world; * for I am the only Son * whom the Father sent into the world for the forgiveness of sins.

Glo ry to you, our God, glo ry to you.

Glo ry to the Fa ther, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spir it;
now and ev er and for ev er. A men.
You said to your friends, O Christ: * We shall drink a new wine in the kingdom of heaven; * and you shall share in my divinity; * for the Father has sent me into the world for the forgiveness of sins.

Ode 5

Irmos - Tone 6 simple melody

United by the bonds of love, the apostles let their feet be washed by Christ, the Lord of the universe; and thus they became the brilliant messengers, proclaiming to the world the Gospel of peace.

Refrain

Glory to you, our God, glory to you.

The Wisdom of God, who holds back the great waters. * who tames the abyss and stops the fury of the seas, * today pours water into a basin * to wash the feet of his servants.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; now and ever and forever. A-men.

The Master gives his disciples the model of humility; * He who wraps the heavens with the clouds; * now clothes himself with a linen cloth; * He who holds the breath of every creature in his hands * now bends his knee to wash the feet of his servants.
I am thrust down into the abyss of sin and I can no longer endure the wrath of the seas. As Jonah, I cry out to you: Save my life from the pit.

Refrain

Glory to you, our God, glory to you.

O Savior. You said to your disciples: *You call me Lord and Master. * and indeed I am; * therefore, imitate what I am doing.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; now and ever and forever. Amen.

The one who is pure has no need to be washed; * you are pure. but not all; * in your folly, one of you shall betray Me.

Kontakion - Tone 2

Ode 7

Irmos - Tone 6 simple melody

Formerly in the furnace of Babylon, the Youths did not fear the fire into which they had been thrown; but they walked in the flames, and covered the dew they sang: Blessed are You, O God of our Fathers.

Refrain

Glory to you, our God, glory to you.
Bowing his head, Judas set about his evil scheme, * looking for an occasion to hand over to judgment the just and good Judge; * He is the God of our ancestors. the Lord almighty.

One of you shall betray Me, said Christ to his friends; * and they were seized with fear and grief; * forgetting their joy, they asked: * Is it I, O Lord and God of our fathers?

The one who dips his hand into the dish with Me; * it would be better for him if he had never passed through the gates of life! * Thus the betrayer was indicated by the God of our fathers.

Ode 8
Irmos - Tone 6 simple melody

To obey the law of their fathers the noble youths bravely confronted death, and they scorned the foolish order of the king of Babylon. Standing together in the fire that could not consume them, they worthily sang the praise of God almighty: Praise the Lord, all you his works, to Him belongs
Glory to you, our God, glory to you.

The holy apostles and blessed guests in Zion * followed the Word as sheep with their Shepherd; * united with Christ, they were never separated; * nourished by the divine Word, they cried out in thanksgiving: * Praise the Lord all you his works, * to Him belongs great glory and eternal praise.

Judas Iscariot forgot the laws of friendship; * his feet, which You washed, now carry him to the betrayal. * Having eaten your Bread and received your divine Body, O Christ, * he sets a trap for You; * for he did not know how to cry out: * Praise the Lord all you his works, * to Him belongs great glory and eternal praise.

The shameless Judas received the Body which delivers us from sin, * and the Blood poured out for the salvation of the world. * He was not ashamed to drink this Blood which he had sold for money; * he was not able to avoid this crime and cry out: * Praise the Lord all you his works, * to Him belongs great glory and eternal praise.

At the end of the Eighth Ode, the priest (or deacon) comes with the censer before the icon of the Theotokos on the icon screen. Incensing her icon, he intones:

Deacon: Let us greatly extol the Theotokos and the Mother of Light in hymns.

Then he incenses the whole Church as usual, beginning with the Holy Table.
The Canticle of the Theotokos is NOT sung.

Ode 9
Irmos - Tone 6 simple melody

Lifting up our minds to the Upper Room, O faithful, let us enjoy the lordly hospitality and the eternal banquet. Having learned from the Word about the Word, we exalt him who has ascended.

Refrain
Glory to you, our God, glory to you.

The Word said to his disciples: * Go and prepare the Passover in the upper room; * prepare the Passover which strengthens the spirit * for those whom I have initiated with the unleavened bread of purity and the word of truth; * and glorify the strength of grace and love.

The Father has begotten Me, the Wisdom and Creator, before all ages; * He has established
Me as the beginning of his ways. * to do the works which are now mystically accomplished. *
Even though I am the Word, uncreated by nature, * I take unto myself the language of those whose nature I have assumed.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit;
now and ever and forever. Amen.
I am truly human, and not only in appearance; * and through this communion of natures, * human nature is made divine. * Therefore, recognize in Me the unity and the integrity of the two natures.

At the end of the Ninth Ode, the deacon says the Small Litany at the Ambon. If there is no deacon, the priest says this litany before the Royal Doors.

Small Litany

Deacon: Again and again, in peace, let us pray to the Lord.

Response:

1. Lord, have mercy.

Deacon: Protect us, save us, have mercy on us, and preserve us, O God, by your grace.

Response:

2. Lord, have mercy.

Deacon: Commemorating our most holy, most pure, most blessed and glorious Lady, the Theotokos and ever-Virgin Mary with all the saints, let us commit ourselves and one another and our whole life to Christ our God.

Response:

To you, O Lord.

Priest: O God, our God, who have placed all spiritual and intellectual powers under your will, we pray and beg you: accept these hymns of praise which we offer to you according to our ability together with all your creatures. Give us in exchange the riches of your goodness, for before you all beings in the heavens, or on earth and under the earth bend their knees, and everything that lives or that breathes gives praise to your glory beyond reach, for you are the one true God, full of mercy. For all the heavenly powers praise you, and we give glory to you: to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever.
Response: Amen.

Hymn of Light

I see your bridal chamber completely engulfed with light,

O my Savior, and I do not have a wedding garment to enter and enjoy your brightness; fill the garment of my soul with light and save me, O Lord.

Sung three times

The Psalms of Praise

Praise him, all his angels.

Praise him, all his host.

Praise him, sun and moon,

praise him, shining stars.
Praise him, highest heavens and the waters above the heavens.

Let them praise the name of the Lord.
He commanded: they were made.
He fixed them for ever,
gave a law which shall not pass away.

Praise the Lord from the earth,
sea creatures and all oceans,
fire and hail, snow and mist,
stormy winds that obey his word;

all mountains and hills,
all fruit trees and cedars,
beasts, wild and tame,
reptiles and birds on the wing;

all earth's kings and peoples,
earth's princes and rulers,
young men and maidens,
old men together with children.

Let them praise the name of the Lord *
for he alone is exalted.
The splendor of his name * reaches beyond heaven and earth.

He exalts the strength of his people. *
He is the praise of all his saints,
of the sons of Israel, *
of the people to whom he comes close.

Psalm 149
Sing a new song to the Lord, *
his praise in the assembly of the faithful.
Let Israel rejoice in its Maker, *
let Zion's sons exult in their king.
Let them praise his name with dancing and make music with timbrel and harp. For the Lord takes delight in his people. He crowns the poor with salvation.

Let the faithful rejoice in their glory, shout with joy and take their rest. Let the praise of God be on their lips and a two-edged sword in their hand, to deal out vengeance to the nations and punishment on all the peoples; to bind their kings in chains and their nobles in fetters of iron;

to carry out the sentence pre-ordained: this honor is for all his faithful.

Psalm 150 Praise God in his holy place, praise him in his mighty heavens.

Cantor: (Tone 2) Praise him for his powerful deeds, praise his surpassing greatness.

Stichera of Great and Holy Thursday - Tone 2 samohlasen

The Sanhedrin of the Jews hastens to convene to deliver the Creator and Maker of all to Pilate. O how lawless! O how faithless!

They prepare to judge the one who is coming to judge the living and the dead. They arrange the passion of the one who heals the passions.

Long-suffering Lord, great is your mercy: Glory to you!

Cantor: O praise him with sound of trumpet, praise him with lute and harp.

The transgressor, Judas, dipped his hand in the dish during the supper with you, O Lord, and then lawlessly reached out his hand to accept the silver coins. He calculated the price of the myrrh, but did not flinch to sell you who are priceless. He extended his foot to be washed, but kissed the Master with treachery to betray him to the lawless ones. He was cast out of the company of the Apostles; he cast back the thirty pieces of silver. He never saw your resurrection on the third day, through which, have mercy on us.

Cantor: Praise him with timbrel and dance, (onal)
praise him with strings and pipes.

Judas, the traitor, being treacherous, treacherously betrayed the Lord and Savior with a kiss. He sold the Master of all to the lawless like a slave;
but like a sheep to the slaughter, willingly, went the Lamb of God, the Son of the Father, the only all merciful One.

Cantor: O praise him with resounding cymbals, praise him with clashing of cymbals.
(onal)
Let everything that lives and that breathes give praise to the Lord.

Judas, the apostle and apostate, servant and conspirator, friend and devil, is betrayed by his deeds, for he followed the Master while plot-ting his
He said to himself: I will hand him over and gain the collected money. He tried to sell the myrrh and to have Jesus seized by deceit.

He gave a kiss and gave Christ away. But the only compassionate Lover of humanity went like a sheep to the slaughter.

Cantor: Glory... now and ever...

Doxastikon - Tone 2 samohlasen

The Lamb whom Isaiah foretold comes willingly to the slaughter. He gives his back to be beaten and gives his cheeks to be slapped. He did not turn his face away from shameful spitting.

He is condemned to a shameful death, and though sinless, accepts all this willingly to grant resurrection from the dead to all.

The priest stands before the Royal doors and says:

Priest: To you all glory is due, O Lord our God, and we give glory to you, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.

Glory to you who show us the light!

The Lesser Doxology

All: Glory to God in the highest and to people on earth, peace and good will.
We praise you, we bless you, we worship you,
we glorify you, we thank you for your great glory.
Lord God, heavenly King, Father Almighty;
Lord, only-begotten Son, Jesus Christ, and Holy Spirit.

Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,
You take away the sin of the world, have mercy on us.
You take away the sins of the world,
hear our prayer.
You are seated at the right hand of the Father,
have mercy on us.
For you alone are holy, you alone are Lord, Jesus Christ,
to the glory of God the Father. Amen.

I will bless you day after day,
and praise your name forever.
O Lord, you have been our refuge from one generation to the next.
I said: Lord, have mercy on me,
heal my soul, for I have sinned against You.
O Lord, I have fled to you for refuge.
Teach me to do your will,
for you, O Lord, are my God.
In you is the source of life
and in your light we see light.
Extend your mercy
to those who know You.

Blessed are you, O Lord, teach me your commandments. (reverence)
Blessed are you, O Master, make me understand your commandments. (reverence)
Blessed are you, O Holy One, enlighten me with your commandments. (reverence)
O Lord, your mercy is forever;
despise not the work of your hands.
To you is due praise; to you is due a hymn;
to you is glory due,
Father, Son, and Holy Spirit,
now and ever and forever. Amen.

Litany of Supplication

Deacon:
Let us complete our morning prayer to the Lord

Response:
1. Lord, have mercy.

Deacon:
Protect us, save us, have mercy on us, and preserve us, O God, by your grace.

Response:
2. Lord, have mercy.
Deacon: That this whole day be perfect, holy, peaceful, and without sin, let us beseech the Lord.

Response:

3. Grant this, O Lord.

Deacon: For an angel of peace, a faithful guide, a guardian of our souls and bodies, let us beseech the Lord.

Response:

4. Grant this, O Lord.

Deacon: For the pardon and remission of our sins and offenses, let us beseech the Lord.

Response: Grant this, O Lord. (3)

Deacon: For what is good and beneficial to our souls and for peace in the world, let us beseech the Lord.

Response: Grant this, O Lord (4)

Deacon: That we may spend the rest of our life in peace and repentance, let us beseech the Lord.

Response: Grant this, O Lord. (3)

Deacon: For a Christian, painless, unashamed, peaceful end of our life, and for a good account before the fearsome judgment seat of Christ, let us beseech the Lord.

Response: Grant this, O Lord. (4)

Deacon: Commemorating our most holy, most pure, most blessed and glorious Lady, the Theotokos and ever-Virgin Mary with all the Saints, let us commit ourselves and one another, and our whole life to Christ our God.

Response:

To you, O Lord.
Celebrant: We sing to you, we praise you, we bless you, and we thank you, God of our Fathers, for you have banished the dark of night and shown us once again the light of day. We beseech you, forgive our sins and accept our prayer in your great tenderness of heart because we take refuge in you, the merciful and all-powerful God. Shine in our hearts your true Sun of Justice. Enlighten our minds and guard all our senses, so that walking blamelessly in the path of your commandments as in daylight, we may reach eternal life, for in you is the source of life. Make us worthy to enjoy the unapproachable light.

For you are our God and we give glory to you, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever.

Response: Amen.

Celebrant: Peace be to all!

Response: And to your spirit.

Deacon: Bow your heads to the Lord.

Response: To you, O Lord.

Celebrant: Holy Lord, you dwell on high and look upon the lowly, and with your all-seeing eye you watch over all creation. To you we bend our neck in spirit and body and we implore you, O Holy of Holies, stretch forth your invisible hand from your holy dwelling place and bless us all. If we have sinned voluntarily or involuntarily forgive us as a good God who loves mankind and gives us earthly and heavenly gifts.

For yours are mercy and salvation, O Christ our God, and we give glory to you, with your eternal Father and your life-creating Spirit, now and ever and forever.
Today the deceitful council gathers against Christ, and decides to hand over to Pilate the innocent One, that they may not take the initiative for his death.

Today the greedy one places the rope around his neck, and thus Judas deprives himself of life both temporal and divine. Today Caiaphas unwittingly becomes a prophet when he says: It is better that one man should die for all. He has come to suffer for our sins and to deliver us from the bondage of the Enemy in his goodness and love for all of us.

Thus even my friend, in whom I trusted, who ate my bread, has turned against me.

To-day Judas drops his mask of love and reveals his love of money; he no longer cares for the poor, nor is it the costly perfume nor the myrrh that he wishes to sell; rather he offers to sell the heavenly Myrrh and he keeps the money. He hastens to the Jews and asks the impious ones: What will you give me, and I will deliver Him over to you? His greed drives him to betrayal; he sells the Treasure cheaply, at a price set by the ones who set a price on his head. He does not dispute the price, and sells the Lord as a runaway slave. For thieves always throw away that which is precious. But today it is the sacred Treasure that the disciple casts to the dogs; for the lust of money alienates one from God.

Let us flee far from his example and say: O long-suffering Lord, glory to You.

Cantor

They come to visit me and speak empty words; their hearts full of malice, they spread it abroad.

O Judas, you are filled with the ways of the impious; for in your love of money, you rejected all human goodness. If you have such love for riches, why did you then follow the One who preached poverty? If you truly loved the Lord, why then did you sell the priceless One and hand him over to the infamy of death? Let the sun tremble and the earth shudder as the cry out in fear: O Lord of mercy, glory to You.

Cantor

My enemies whisper against me.

O faithful, let no one who is not initiated approach the Supper of the Lord; let no one draw near in betrayal as did Judas! For he received his portion and yet abandoned the Bread of Life; he appeared as a disciple, yet he was truly a murderer. He ate at the table of the apostles, yet he enjoyed the company of the godless ones. In his hatred he kissed the Lord, and with a kiss, he betrayed the One who redeems us from the curse, our Savior and O Lord, you initiated your disciples into the mysteries with these words: O friends, let no fear separate you from Me! If I suffer, it is for the salvation of the world; do not be troubled over Me, for I have not come to be served, but to serve, and to give my life as a ransom for all. If you are my friends, the follow my example; the one who wishes to be first must become the last of all and let the master become as the servant. Live in me and you shall bear much fruit.

for I am the Vine, and you are the branches.

All: It is good to give thanks to the Lord,
to make music to your name, O Most High,
to proclaim your love in the morning and your truth in the watches of the night.

Holy God, Holy and Mighty,
Holy and Immortal, have mercy on us. (3 times)

Glory to the Father and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and ever and forever. Amen.

Most Holy Trinity, have mercy on us; Lord, cleanse us of our sins;
Master, forgive our transgressions;
Holy One, come to us and heal our infirmities for your name's sake.

Lord, have mercy. (3 times)

Glory to the Father and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and ever and forever. Amen.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us, and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

Priest: For thine is the kingdom and the power and the glory, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever.

Response: Amen.
While the illustrious disciples were enlightened as their feet were washed at the supper, the ungodly Judas darkened by a sick love of silver, betrayed you, the just Judge, to lawless judges. See how a money-hungry man hanged himself because of it, and flee the greedy soul who would do such things to the teacher. O Lord, so good to everyone, glory to you.

DISMISSAL

Deacon: Wisdom!

Response: Give the blessing!
Celebrant: Blessed is Christ our God, the One-Who-Is, always, now and ever and forever.

Response: Amen. O God, strengthen the true faith, forever and ever.

Celebrant: O most holy Theotokos, save us!

Response: More honorable than the Cherubim, and beyond compare more glorious than the Seraphim who, a virgin gave birth to God the Word, you, truly the Theotokos, we magnify.

Celebrant: Glory to you, O Christ God, our hope, glory to you!

Response: Glory to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and forever. Amen.

Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy. Lord, have mercy.

Give the blessing.

Celebrant: May Christ our true God, who, because of his surpassing goodness, showed us the most excellent way of humility when he washed the disciples' feet, and condescended even unto the Cross and burial for our salvation, have mercy on us and save us through the prayers of his most pure Mother, of the holy, glorious and praiseworthy apostles, and of all the saints; for Christ is good and loves us all.

Response: Amen.
