

The Liturgy of the Presanctified Gifts:

The Lenten Tone

The Lenten tone is used for the people's responses at the Liturgy of the Presanctified Gifts; it is sometimes used at other services of the Great Fast as well:

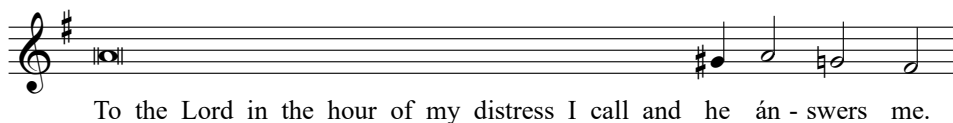

Lord, have mer - cy. Lord, have mer - cy.
To you, O Lord. A - - - - men.

This same two-part melody can also be used for singing psalms and other texts which are arranged into pairs of phrases:

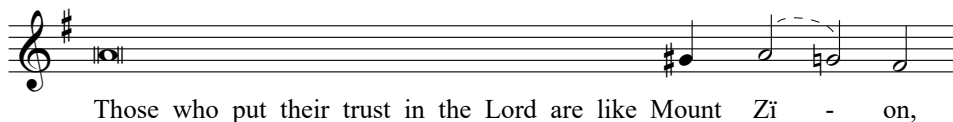

The accent marks show where an accented syllable is normally sung. In the first phrase of the Lenten tone, the accent falls on the first half note:

To the Lord in the hour of my distress I call and he án - swers me.

The phrase is sung this same way whenever two syllables follow the accent. If only one syllable follows the accent, then the first two half-notes are slurred together.

Those who put their trust in the Lord are like Mount Zi - on,

And if there are three syllables after the accent, the middle half note is split into two quarter notes on the same pitch:

on the treetop, the stórk has her home

In the second phrase of the Lenten tone, the accent also falls on the first half note, and the first two half notes can be slurred together, or the second split in half, just as in the first phrase:

clothed with majesty and glory, wrapped in light as in a robe.

O Lord, save my soul from lying lips, from the tongue of the de- ceit - ful.

You make the clouds your chariot, you walk on the wings of the wind.

When an entire psalm or prayer is sung to the Lenten tone, instead of writing out the whole text to music, we can "point" it for chanting as follows:

1. The text sung to the first phrase is unindented, and the text sung to the second phrase is indented.
2. In each phrase, the syllable where the the voice first drops in pitch is in bold face.
3. The syllable that goes on the first half note is marked with an accent mark.
3. If two slurred notes are sung on one syllable, then a double-dot symbol (like a German unlaut character) is put over it. This nark does NOT change the pronunciation of the word! It is simply a reminder that the syllable will be sung on two pitches in a row. If the double-dot falls on the same syllable as the accent, then only the double-dot is shown.

These rules can be summarized by giving an example of the tone at the start of Psalm 103, like so:

Bless the Lord, O my soul! Lord my God, how gréat you are, clothed with majesty and glory, wrapped in light as ín a robe.

The musical notation shows a treble clef with a key signature of one sharp (F#). The melody consists of a half note G4, a quarter rest, a quarter note A4, a half note B4, a quarter note A4, and a quarter note G4. The word "how" is bolded and accented. A dashed slur covers the notes "gréat" and "you", and a double-dot is placed above the "é" in "gréat". The word "light" is bolded and accented. A dashed slur covers the notes "as" and "ín", and a double-dot is placed above the "í" in "ín".

The bold-faced and accented syllables are shown in their proper places; and the dashed slur and double-dot show where there might be a slur. The splitting of the middle half note into quarter notes is not shown.

When a psalm is chanted, the "Come let us worship..." before the psalm, and the "Glory... now and ever..." after it, are usually chanted to the same tone as the psalm. So consider the following:

Come, let us worship our Kíng and God.
 Come, let us worship Christ, our Kíng and God.

Come, let us wórship and bow before the only Lord Jesus Christ, our Kíng and our God.

Here is how this would be chanted:

Come, let us wor-ship our King and God.

Come, let us wor-ship Christ, our King and God.

Come, let us wor - ship and bow

The musical notation shows three staves of music in G major. Each staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one sharp (F#). The first staff has a half note G4, a quarter rest, a quarter note A4, a half note B4, a quarter note A4, and a quarter note G4. The second staff has a half note G4, a quarter rest, a quarter note A4, a half note B4, a quarter note A4, and a quarter note G4. The third staff has a half note G4, a quarter rest, a quarter note A4, a half note B4, a quarter note A4, and a quarter note G4. The lyrics are placed below the notes, with hyphens indicating syllable placement across notes.

be - fore the only Lord Je - sus Christ the King and our God.

The following pages provide the text for Psalm 103 at the start of the Liturgy of the Presanctified Gifts, pointed for chanting to the Lenten tone.

Introduction, and Psalm 103

Come, let us worship our King and God.

Come, let us worship Christ, our King and God.

Come, let us worship and bow

before the only Lord Jesus Christ, our King and our God.

Psalm 103

Bless the Lord, O my soul!

Lord my God, how great you are,

clothed in majesty and glory,

wrapped in light as in a robe.

You stretch out the heavens like a tent.

Above the rains you build your dwelling.

You make the clouds your chariot,

you walk on the wings of the wind;

you make your angels spirits:

and your ministers a flaming fire.

You founded the earth on its base,

to stand firm from age to age.

You wrapped it with the ocean like a cloak:

the waters stood higher than the mountains.

At your threat they took to flight;

at the voice of your thunder they fled.

They rose over the mountains and flowed down to the place which you had *app*ointed.

You set limits they might not pass lest they return to cöver the earth.

You make springs gush forth in the valleys;
they flow in *betw*een the hills.

They give drink to all the beasts of the field;
the wild asses quench their thirst.

On their banks dwell the birds of heaven;
from the branches they sing their song.

From your dwelling you water the hills;
earth drinks its fill of your gift.

You make the grass grow for the cattle and the plants to sërve man's needs, that he may bring forth bread from the earth and wine to chéer man's heart;

oil, to make his face shine and bread to stréngthen man's heart.

The trees of the Lord drink their fill,
the cedars he planted on Lébanon;

there the birds build their nests;
on the treetop the stórk has her home.

The goats find a home on the mountains and *rabb*its híde in the rocks.

You made the moon to mark the months;
the sun knows the time for its sètting.

When you spread the darkness it is night
and all the beasts of the fórest creep forth.

The young lions roar for their prey and ask their fód from God.

At the rising of the sun they steal away and go to rést in their dens.

Man goes out to his work,
to labor till évening falls.

How many are your works, O Lord!
In wisdom you have made them all.
The earth is full of your ríches.

There is the sea, vast and wide,
with its moving swarms past counting,
living things gréat and small.

The ships are moving there,
and the monsters you made to pläy with.

All of these look to you to give them their food in due sěason.

You give it, they gather it up;
you open your hand, they háve their fill.

You hide your face, they are dismayed;
you take back your spirit, they die,
returning to the dust from which they came.

You send forth your spirit, they are created;
and you renew the fáce of the earth.

May the glory of the Lord last forever!
May the Lord rejóice in his works!

He looks on the earth and it trembles;
the mountains send forth smöke át his touch.

I will sing to the Lord all my life,
make music to my Gód while I live.

May my thoughts be pleasing to him.
I find my jóy in the Lord.

Let sinners vanish from the earth and the wicked *ex*ist no more.
Bless the Lörd, Ó my soul.

And again:

You made the moon to mark the months;
the sun knows the time for its sëtting.
How many are your works, O Lord!
In wisdom you have máde them all.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spírit, now and ever and foréver. Amen.

Then three times, with a bow each time:

Alleluia! Alleluia! Allelüia!
Glory to yóu, O God!
