O Christ our God, Foun - tain of Life, glo - ry to you!

Sessional Hymn 1 - Tone 4

The myrrh-bear-ing wom-en looked into the en-trance of the tomb, and be-cause or is he who proclaimed his Resurrection before his pas-sion now ris - en?

Celebrant: May Christ our true God, risen from the dead, have mercy on us and save us through the prayers of his most pure Mother, through the might of the precious and life-creating Cross, through the prayers of the holy, glorious and praiseworthy apostles, of the holy _____ (patron of this Church), and of the holy _____ (commemorated this day), and through the prayers of all the saints; for he is gracious and loves us all.

Response:
A - - - - - men.

After the Dismissal, the celebrant says three times: "Christ is risen!" and the faithful respond each time: "Indeed he is risen!" The celebrant then sings once: "Christ is risen from the dead! By death . . .," and the faithful sing:

Christ is ris - en from the dead! By death he tram-pled death;

Sessional Hymn 2 - Tone 4

De-scend-ing from his sanctua-ry in heav - en, Ga-bri-el came to the stone for he whom you love will al-ways be with you. Take cour-age, for

You suf-fered cru - cifixion willing-ly, o Sav - ior, and mor-tals placed you with a word. Death, our enemy, was bound and de-feat - ed through your

Hymns of Light

You, O King and Lord, have fallen asleep in the flesh as a mortal man, but on the third day you arose. You have raised Adam from his corruption and made Death powerless. You are the Pasch of incorruption. You are the salvation of the world.

Glory...

Meeting a woman in a village of Samaria, O almighty Savior, you asked her for water to drink, even though in ancient times in the desert you brought forth from the most hard rock the stream from which Israel drank in abundance. O Giver of life, you awakened faith in the heart of the Samaritan woman, and she now tastes both joy and living water in heaven forever.

Now and ever...

O Lord and Lover of us all, you appeared in the Temple in the middle of the Feast and said: All who thirst, come to me and draw the living water; in it you will find joy and you shall enjoy both grace and eternal life.

The Psalms of Praise are sung in Tone 4 through stich 1 (pp. 184-188).

Cantor: (Tone 3) Ride on in triumph for the cause of truth and goodness and right
(on A)

Let heav - en and earth greatly rejoice to - day. Christ has shone forth as a

O Lord, you willingly suffered crucifixion in the flesh, and on the third day you arose from the dead, emptying the prisons of Hades and delivering those held captive, for you are the Prince of life. Refrain

Having seen the resplendent angel, the myrrh-bearing women fearfully fled from the tomb; they hastened to the disciples to tell them of the resurrection of Christ. Refrain

O Lord, you are the living water who built your dwelling place above the waters; you gave the Samaritan woman the waters she asked for, as she acknowledged your infinite mercy.

Glo - ry to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Ho - ly Spir - it.

Grant salvation to the faithful who sincerely glorify you, O Holy Trinity, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit; O Creator of the world, in your goodness grant us the forgiveness of our sins.

Seeing your soul descend into Hades, O Word, the souls of the just escaped from the bonds which held them through the ages; and they praised your power which surpasses every spirit. Refrain

Why all this bother? Why do you come with myrrh, O women, seeking the Lord in the tomb? He is risen and the world is raised with him, said the resplendent angel to the myrrh-bearing women. Refrain

Glo - ry to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Ho - ly Spir - it.

Let us all together form a spiritual choir to sing praises to the risen Lord. Let the earth exalt and let heaven rejoice; let the clouds rain down justice like the dew upon those who keep this feast of Christ; and let us celebrate in joy! Refrain

O unique Light having no division, such is the triple Sun of the one Divinity: the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, unique Life and Creator of the universe. Together with the angels let us, the faithful, sing to him with a thrice-holy and sacred song.

Now and ev - er and for - ev - er. A - men.

Unique and supreme is the God whom we praise, the Father, Son, and divine Spirit, the Trinity whom the heavenly powers glorify: Holy, holy, holy are you forever.

Now and ev - er and for - ev - er. A - men.

Having wondrously conceived the God of the universe in your womb, O Virgin Mother, you gave birth in a manner that surpasses understanding, and remained a virgin as before you gave birth.

KatavasiaTone 1 samopodoben*

Come, let us partake of a new drink, not mir - ac - u - lous - ly pro - duced

Kontakion of Mid-Pentecost - Tone 4

In the mid - dle of the Feast of the Law, O Christ God, Cre - a - tor and Lord of all, you told those present: Come and draw the water of im - mor - tal - i - ty.
There - fore we a - dore you and cry out with faith: Grant us your mer - cies, for you are the Foun-tain of our life.

Sessional Hymn - Tone 4

Let heav-en re-joice and let mor-tals dance, for Christ is born of the Vir-gin and ap-pears in our flesh. By his death he has deliv-ered the hu-man race from the cor-rup-tion of the grave. He asked the Samaritan wom-an for wa-ter, and in a striking miracle he in turn of-fered to her the fountain of grace and im-mor-tal life.

Cantor: Glory... now and ever...

O Prince of wis-dom and Mas-ter of knowl-edge, in the mid-dle of the Feast pre-scribed by the Law, you sat in the Temple and taught the crowds

You willingly suffered death, O immortal One; and you crushed the bronze gates; you took Hades captive, O heavenly King, and freed those who had been held there through the ages so that they may unceasingly praise the power of your goodness. Refrain

O long-suffering One, you were raised on the Cross; the rocks were split open and the sun hid itself; the curtain of the Temple was torn in two; the earth shook and Hades was humiliated, trembling because it had to give up its prisoners. Refrain

You appeared to those lying in darkness, O unsetting Light and Life of the world; when the just people saw you, they were jubilant and cried out: You have come to deliver the captives by your power which we now praise. Refrain

Seated at the well at the sixth hour of the day, you gave living water to the Samaritan woman, O Savior God, and in your goodness, you granted her streams of knowledge. For this reason, we also sing to you: Bless the Lord, all you works of the Lord.

Let us bless the Father, Son, and Ho-ly Spir-it, Lord.

We praise the Father who is from all eternity, the co-eternal Son, and the Spirit of holiness, tri-personal and unique Divinity, having neither confusion nor division, the Creator of the world and sovereign majesty for whom we now sing: Bless the Lord, all you works of the Lord.

Now and ev-er and for-ev-er. A-men.

With lips purified by a burning coal, Isaiah foretold the Fire of the Divinity who was incarnate of you, O Virgin, in a wondrous fashion. He burned away the sins of mortals to divinize our nature in his love, O all-pure Virgin.

Let us praise, bless, and wor-ship the Lord, sing-ing and highly exalting him a-bove all for-ev-er.

Refrain

Glo - ry to your ho - ly Re - sur - rec - tion, O Lord.

Let the heavens rejoice and let the earth exalt! The Lord is risen and has appeared to all his apostles. Refrain

Your power, O Death, has been abolished by the death of Christ our God; and as the spouses come forth from the bridal chamber, the dead arise from the tomb, following the risen Lord. Refrain

Why are you crying, O women? Why do you come with myrrh looking for the immortal One? He is risen as he promised, said the angel to the myrrh-bearing women. Refrain

O Lord, to the woman of Samaria who asked you for water, you gave the water of divine knowledge; she no longer thirsts, but she praises you always.

Glo - ry to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Ho - ly Spir - it.

O Trinity and supreme God, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, sharing the same power and the same eternity, save all who praise your name.

Now and ev - er and for - ev - er. A - men.

Moses, the giver of the Law, formerly saw you in the burning bush, and Daniel recognized you in the holy mountain, O only Virgin who gave birth to God.

Glo - ry to your ho - ly Re - sur - rec - tion, O Lord.

At the moment of your divine Passion, O God of mercy, according to your will you were placed among the ranks of criminals; and when you bowed your head, O Creator, the rocks were split in two and the earth trembled, and the dead, who were asleep through the ages, woke up. Refrain

Why do you seek among the dead the One who lives in eternity? He is risen as he said; see the empty tomb, the clothes and the shroud. Hasten and tell this to the apostles, said the one who appeared as a young man to the holy women. Refrain

You are the Fountain of life, said the woman of Samaria to Christ. My soul is always thirsty, O Word; quench me with the grace of God that the dryness of ignorance does not hold me in its power, but that I may proclaim your wonders, O Lord.

Glo-ry to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Ho - ly Spir - it.

We sing to the indivisible Trinity, consubstantial in the unity of three Persons that we perceive: The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, the eternal Creator of the universe, God who is praised by the powers of heaven.

Now and ev - er and for - ev - er. A - men.

After your wondrous birth-giving, O holy Theotokos, you preserved your virginity without blemish. Thus angels and people everywhere sing to you with an incessant voice, O tabernacle most pure in which the infinite God dwelt.

Kontakion of the Samaritan Woman - Tone 8

When the Sa-mar-i-tan woman came to the well with faith, she be-held you, O Wa-ter of Wis-dom. She is famed in song, for she drank deeply and inherited the king-dom from on high.

Ikos Let us worthily listen to the Gospel in which St. John clearly teaches us about the sacred mysteries which took place one time in Samaria. Speaking to a woman, the Lord asked her for water, he who formerly gathered the waters in one place, the Word of God who shares the same throne with the Father and the Spirit. For he has come to seek his fallen image, and his memory is glorified forever.

Ode 7

Tone 6

Do not re-ject us until the end because of your ho-ly name; do not break your e-ter-nal cov-en-ant; do not keep your love far a-way from us;
 O Lord, God of our fa-thers, who is glo-ri-fied for-ev-er.

Refrain

Glo-ry to your ho-ly Re-sur-rec-tion, O Lord.

Arriving at your holy grave early in the morning, the myrrh-bearing women saw a resplendent angel; they were seized with fear, O Christ, as they learned of your holy Resurrection. Refrain

Death is trampled down, Hades is imprisoned, and the captives are delivered by the Resurrection of Christ. Let us exalt with joy and clap our hands; let us celebrate with gladness. Refrain

O Apostles, be jubilant together with the angels in heaven; dance for joy, all you mortals. Death has vanished before the risen Christ, and Adam exalts, banishing all sadness. Refrain

O Lord and Giver of life, you gave the Samaritan woman streams of knowledge and forgiveness; we also praise your infinite mercy.

Glo-ry to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Ho-ly Spir-it.

Tri-personal unity and consubstantial Trinity, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, indivisible by nature, we praise you as the one and only God, the Master, Creator, and Lord of the universe.

Now and ev-er and for-ev-er. A-men.

to you, O my God.

Refrain

Glo - ry to your ho - ly Re - sur - rec - tion, O Lord.

The impious ones nailed you to the Cross, and a sword pierced your side; the noble Joseph buried you in a new tomb, O Jesus Christ. You resurrected in glory and raised with you all creation, who now praises your power, O Savior. Refrain

O Lord, in your power you crushed the gates and bolts of Hades; you resurrected as God and told the myrrh-bearing women to rejoice. They in turn announced to the disciples: The living God is risen and has appeared to enlighten the world. Refrain

O women, why do you weep for the dead? And why do you bring this myrrh? Christ is risen, said the resplendent angel; he has left the linen shroud and the cloth. Go quickly to his friends and announce the Resurrection! Refrain

O inexhaustible Source of life, O Ocean of mercy and lord of goodness, you stopped on the way and were seated at Jacob's well; to the Samaritan woman you said: Give me water to drink, and you shall receive streams of forgiveness.

Glo - ry to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Ho - ly Spir - it.

With the bodiless angels I praise in faith the eternal Father, the Son who shares the same throne in heaven, and the consubstantial Spirit, the unique and royal majesty, the divine Creator and the providence of the world.

Now and ev - er and for - ev - er. A - men.

O only Virgin who gave birth, we praise you as the throne of the Lord, the impassable door and unhewn mountain, the spiritual candlestick and the room filled with light, the tabernacle that manifests glory, the ark of the covenant, the chalice, and the holy table.
