1. To the Master's side came a man, who cried:
   "Lord, take pity on my son!"
   "All their striving had been vain."

2. Stumbling in their shame, his disciples came;
   Jesus heard his pray'r
   Shows the path that leads to God:

3. The apostle's word, seemingly absurd,
   Jesus said at last,
   Seen by all as fools,

   and, with might so rare, made the demon's work undone.
   "Only pray'r and fast could this victory attain."

   Faith the size of mustard seed has the pow'r to conquer need.

   Mountains large and grand move at faith's command; nothing stands against faith's plead.
